About ECCS

Early Childhood Comprehensive Systems brings together primary care providers, teachers, families, and caregivers to develop seamless systems of care for children in the critical formative years from birth to age five. Working with health care providers, social services, child care and early childhood education programs, Early Childhood Comprehensive Systems help children grow up healthy and ready to learn by addressing their emotional and social health in a broad-based and coordinated way.

Our vision for Kenosha County is to develop an integrated network of key stakeholders (anyone who touches the life of a child) that are knowledgeable about and have access to: social emotional development principles, trauma concepts, trauma indicators, trauma informed care and a system of supportive and educational resources for children birth to five, and their families.

Introduction to the Book

This handbook is meant to be used as a tool by providers seeking resources for children ages birth to five and their families within Kenosha County. It provides agency names along with basic service and contact information. Please note that ALL services provided by each agency may not be listed.

The development of this handbook is the result of a collaborative effort between Dr. Diane Gerlach, the Kenosha County Division of Health, the Kenosha Unified School District, the Kenosha Achievement Center's Early Intervention Program, PSN Family Resource Center, and the Kenosha County Division of Children and Family Services.

Teachers spend lots of time cuddling and talking to baby to instill trust and provide a healthy early learning environment for movement, exploration and communication. The infant care play area is filled with toys and books that help your baby develop at his or her own pace. Goddard teachers also work with the parents to ensure a balance of home and school.

Toddler Program: The Toddler Program encourages your child's natural curiosity in a fun and active learning environment. Great developmental strides are made in our Toddler Program. From baby's first steps, to learning to share, to potty-training... and of course, discovering the answers to the favorite toddler question, "Why?" Through The Goddard School® F.L.EX.® Learning Program, teachers plan daily activities in a bright and cheery environment to encourage eager investigation of the world. Children are guided through activities that strengthen gross motor skills, such as using balance beams and standing on tip-toes; and fine motor skills through crayon and marker use.

Preschool Program: The Preschool Program offers the perfect backdrop for educational success and flourishing students. Preschoolers are introduced to cognitive skills: sequencing and matching; social skills: similarities and diversity; and language art skills: storytelling and writing. The Goddard School® F.L.EX.® Learning Program sets the stage for self confidence by encouraging progress at a child's own pace, according to individual needs and abilities.

Pre-K Program: The Pre-K Program focuses on kindergarten preparedness, social finesse and a mastery of gross motor skills. Each day, Goddard School teachers provide opportunities for independent discovery, cooperative learning and generous outdoor playtime for your pre-kindergartener. The programs promote cooperative play and collaborative problem-solving skills through classroom-appropriate lesson plans. Most schools offer music appreciation, foreign language, world cultures and access to computers, as well.
