Burials

Kenosha County Cemeteries

Kenosha County has 32 cemeteries. Visit www.graveyards.com for a complete list.

Grave Markers

Grave markers also known as headstones can be purchased through a cemetery or a private organization. Cost can vary from hundreds of dollars to many thousands of dollars. Check with the cemetery you chose before purchasing a headstone.

Green Burials

Green or natural burial is a way of caring for the dead with minimal environmental impact that aids in the conservation of natural resources, reduction of carbon emissions, protection of worker health, and the restoration and/or preservation of habitat. Green burial necessitates the use of non-toxic and biodegradable materials, such as caskets, shrouds, and urns.

<http://www.greenburialcouncil.org/>. Right now in Wisconsin, green burials are only available in Madison & Milwaukee.

LEGAL DOCUMENTS & RECORDS

Death Certificates

The death certificate is completed in two sections: the medical portion is completed by either the Kenosha County Medical Examiner's Office (KCMEO) or a physician, while the remainder is completed by the funeral home. Once the death certificate is completed, it is the responsibility of the funeral home to file the document with the WI State Office of Vital Statistics. The funeral home can then provide you with copies of the death certificate. You may also request a death certificate from the Register of Deeds office at 262-653-2444 or apply on-line at <http://www.kenoshacounty.org/547/Vital-Records>. There is a charge for death certificates.

Autopsy Report

If you would like to request an autopsy report contacts the medical examiner's office. There is no charge for next of kin to receive the report. Note that reports can take 3-4 months or longer to be finalized.

Grief and Bereavement

Grief is a response to loss, generally from the loss of someone who has died, focused mostly on an emotional response but it can also be cognitive, physical, behavioral, social or spiritual and philosophical.

You may feel a range of emotions such as anger, guilt, sadness, disbelief, shock, denial, emptiness, resentment, and even relief. All your feelings are normal.

Three things to remember when you are grieving.

1. Don't be afraid to cry.
2. Talk about your loved one. Say their name. Let your friends and family know that it is ok to talk about them, share stories and say their name as well.
3. Give yourself permission to ask for help. (professional help, support group, religious leader in your community)

Grief is a personal process & journey. There is no "right" or "wrong" way to grieve. Take the time you need. You will never get over the loss of your loved one, but you will get through it.

For any corrections to the grief guide please contact Debbie Rueber at 262-605-6722 or e-mail debbie.rueber@kenoshacounty.org
