RE: Country Thunder 2021

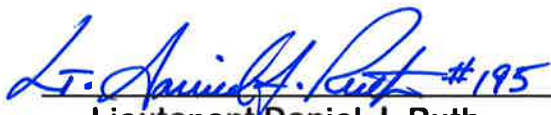

Country Thunder is scheduled for July 15th through 18th, 2021, at the Shadow Hill Ranch in Twin Lakes, Wisconsin. The ownership of the event has not changed since 2014. Its principal owner is Irving One, LLC from Odessa, Texas, Agent Roger Gearhart. This firm is listed on the Class B Liquor License with the Town of Randall which will expire on June 30th, 2021. The Town of Randall has approved the 2021-2022 Class B Liquor License to expire on June 30th, 2022. .

The Kenosha County Department of Planning and Development received the Conditional Use Permit Application in December of 2020 and approved the permit at their March 10th, 2021 meeting. Andy Buehler of Planning and Development confirmed all restrictions would be met to the Planning and Development's satisfaction.

The operations of the event are under the direction of Kim Blevins of Country Thunder East LLC, Madison, Tennessee. No major changes to the operation are anticipated. This year, Country Thunder anticipates 25,000-35,000 in attendance per day. Country Thunder has posted the $225,000.00 bond for the Kenosha County Sheriff's Department and associate agency costs. Country Thunder has also applied for the Activity Control License and has paid that fee.

The Sheriff's Operation will continue the 2019 increase from past years to enhance the Incident Command Operation and Special Response capabilities in case of a mass casualty incident. Additional Police manpower will be requested from neighboring agencies to cover needed assistance on the grounds and increases in traffic. Traffic control will be enhanced with traffic on Lance Drive with restriction of west bound traffic from Lance Drive (North Bound) at 110th Street and 119th Street. Local traffic will be allowed to travel north and south on Lance Drive throughout the event.

The Kenosha County Sheriff's Department continues to adapt to the growing activity and threats associated with such a large event. Costs for professional coverage of this event will rise as future technology, equipment and manpower are required.

EXHIBIT A

CPS 412-1

NATURAL RESOURCES CONSERVATION SERVICE
CONSERVATION PRACTICE STANDARD*GRASSED WATERWAY*CODE 412
(FT.)*DEFINITION

A shaped or graded channel that is established with suitable vegetation to convey surface water at a non-erosive velocity using a broad and shallow cross section to a stable outlet.

PURPOSE

- To convey runoff from terraces, diversions, or other water concentrations without causing erosion or flooding.
- To prevent gully formation.
- To protect/improve water quality.

CONDITIONS WHERE PRACTICE APPLIES

This practice is applied in areas where added water conveyance capacity and vegetative protection are needed to prevent erosion and improve runoff water quality resulting from concentrated surface flow.

CRITERIAGeneral Criteria Applicable To All Purposes

Plan, design, and construct grassed waterways to comply with all federal, state, tribal, and local laws and regulations.

Drainage areas must be treated to minimize sediment deposition to the grassed waterway.

Capacity. Design the waterway to convey the peak runoff expected from the 10-year frequency, 24-hour duration storm. Waterways which are components of waste management systems shall have a minimum capacity to convey the peak runoff from the 25-year frequency, 24 hour storm. Increase capacity as needed to account for potential volume of sediment expected to accumulate in the waterway between planned maintenance activities. When the waterway slope is less than 1 percent, out-of-bank flow may be permitted if such flow will not cause excessive erosion. Ensure that the design capacity, at a minimum, will remove the water before crops are damaged.

Peak discharge for all storms will be determined by the method outlined in NRCS National Engineering Handbook (NEH), Part 650 - Engineering Field Handbook (EFH), Chapter 2; or Technical Release 55 (TR-55).

The vegetative retardance used shall consider the types of grasses to be seeded and the type of management anticipated. The retardance used shall be in accordance with the EFH, Chapter 7, Table 7-4.

Capacity of waterways shall be based on vegetative retardance A, B, or C.

Stability. Determine the minimum depth and width requirements for stability of the grassed waterway using the procedures in EFH, Chapter 7, Grassed Waterways; the Agricultural Research Service (ARS), Agriculture Handbook 667, Stability Design of Grass-Lined Open Channels, or the Handbook of Channel Design for Soil and Water Conservation (SCS-TP-61).

Ensure that the vegetation species selected are suited to the current site conditions and intended uses. Select species that have the capacity to achieve adequate density, height, and vigor within an appropriate time frame to stabilize the waterway.

Stability of waterways shall be based on vegetative retardance C, D, or E.

Stability of waterways shall convey the peak discharge expected from the design storm without exceeding the allowable effective stress or permissible velocity.

Design velocities shall not exceed the values shown in Table 1.

Evaluate the potential effect of waterways with velocities exceeding the critical velocity (super critical).

Waterway Slope Range (%)	Permissible Velocity ¹
	Erosion Resistant Soils ² (ft./sec.)	Easily Eroded Soils ³ (ft./sec.)
0-5	7	5
5.1-10	6	4
Over	5	3

¹Use velocities exceeding 5 ft./sec only where good cover and proper maintenance can be obtained.

²Cohesive (clayey) fine-grain soils and coarse-grain soils with cohesive fines with a plasticity index of 10 to 40 (CL, CH, SC, and GC).

³Soils that do not meet the requirements for erosion-resistant soils.

Alignments. Except for short transition sections, flow in the range of 0.7 to 1.3 of the critical slope must be avoided unless the waterway is straight.

Velocities exceeding the critical velocity shall be restricted to straight reaches.

Use transition sections of at least 50 feet long to change channel dimensions.

Width. Keep the bottom width trapezoidal waterways less than 100 feet unless multiple, or divided waterway, or other means are provided to control meandering of low flows.

Side slopes. Keep the side slopes flatter than a ratio of two horizontal to one vertical (2:1). Reduce the side slopes as needed to accommodate the equipment anticipated to be used for maintenance and tillage/harvesting equipment so that damage to the waterway is minimized.

Depth. The capacity of the waterway must be large enough so that the water surface of the waterway is below the water surface of the tributary channel, terrace, or diversion that flows into the waterway at design flow.

The minimum designed depth of the waterway shall be 0.6 feet.

Provide 0.5 foot freeboard above the designed depth when flow must be contained to prevent damage. Provide freeboard above the designed depth when the vegetation has the maximum expected retardance.

Drainage. When needed to establish or maintain vegetation on sites having prolonged flows, high water tables, or seepage problems, use Wisconsin NRCS Conservation Practice Standards (WI NRCS CPS), Subsurface Drain (606), Underground Outlet (620), or other suitable measures in waterway designs.

Where drainage practices are not practicable or sufficient to solve these seepage problems, use WI NRCS CPS, Lined Waterway or Outlet (468) in place of WI NRCS CPS, Grassed Waterway (412).

All grassed waterways shall have stable inlet areas. The area downstream of bridges, culverts, or other structures shall be stabilized with durable lining materials if vegetation cannot be established.

Outlets. Provide a stable outlet with adequate capacity. The outlet can be another vegetated channel, an earthen ditch, a grade-stabilization structure, filter strip or other suitable outlet.

Grassed waterways that serve as terrace outlets shall be established with adequate vegetation prior to the terrace construction.

Crossings. Provide livestock and vehicular crossings as necessary to prevent damage to the waterway and its vegetation. Crossings shall be in accordance with the criteria contained in WI NRCS CPS, Stream Crossing (578), Access Road (560), or Trail and Walkways (575).

Vegetative Establishment. Establish vegetation as soon as possible using the criteria listed under "Establishment of Vegetation" in WI NRCS CPS, Critical Area Planting (342).

Establish vegetation as soon as conditions permit. Use mulch anchoring, nurse crop, rock or straw or hay bale dikes, fabric or rock checks, filter fences, or runoff diversion to protect the vegetation until it is established. Planting of a close growing crop, e.g., small grains or millet, on the contributing watershed prior to construction of the grassed waterway can also significantly reduce the flow through the waterway during establishment.

CONSIDERATIONS

Where environmentally-sensitive areas need to be protected from dissolved contaminants, pathogens, or sediment in runoff, consider establishment of an increased width of vegetation on the waterway above the flow area. Increasing the width of the waterway above the flow area will increase filtering of sediment and pathogens as well as increase infiltration of runoff and increase nutrient removal. Where sediment control is the primary concern, consider using vegetation in the waterway which can withstand partial burial and adding sediment control measures above the waterway such as residue management. Consider increasing the channel depth and/or designing areas of increased width or decreased slope to trap and store sediment to reduce the amount of sediment that leaves a field. Be sure to provide for regular cleaning out of the waterway when trapping sediment in this manner.

Tillage and crop planting often takes place parallel to the waterway, resulting in preferential flow – and resulting erosion – along the edges of the waterway. Consider installation of measures that ensure that runoff from adjacent areas will enter the waterway. Measures such as directing spoil placement or small swales can direct this preferential flow into the grassed waterway.

Avoid areas where unsuitable plant growth limiting subsoil and/or substratum material such as salts, acidity, root restrictions, etc. may be exposed during implementation of the practice. Where areas cannot be avoided, seek recommendations from a soil scientist for improving the condition or, if not feasible consider over-cutting the waterway and add topsoil over the cut area to facilitate vegetative establishment.

Avoid or protect, if possible, important wildlife habitat, such as woody cover or wetlands when determining the location of the grassed waterway.

If trees and shrubs are incorporated, they should be retained or planted in the periphery of grassed waterways so they do not interfere with hydraulic functions. Medium or tall bunch grasses and perennial forbs may also be planted along waterway margins to improve wildlife habitat.

Waterways with these wildlife features are more beneficial when connecting other habitat types; e.g., riparian areas, wooded tracts and wetlands. When possible, select plant species that can serve multiple purposes, such as benefiting wildlife, while still meeting the basic criteria needed for providing a stable conveyance for runoff.

Water-tolerant vegetation may be an alternative to subsurface drains or stone center waterways on some wet sites.

Use irrigation in dry regions or supplemental irrigation as necessary to promote germination and vegetation establishment.

Wildlife habitat benefits can be provided by adding width of appropriate vegetation to the sides of the waterway. Care should be taken to avoid creating small isolated planting zones that could become population sinks where wildlife attracted to an area experience reproductive loss due to predation.

Consider including diverse legumes, forbs, and flowering plants such as milkweeds that provide pollen and nectar for native bees and other pollinators. In dry regions, these sites may be able to support flowering forbs with higher water requirements and thus provide bloom later in the summer.

The construction of a grassed waterway can disturb large areas and potentially affect cultural resources. Be sure to follow state cultural resource protection policies before construction begins.

Consider using energy dissipating features when velocities exceeding the critical velocity are abruptly reduced to a subcritical velocity.

PLANS AND SPECIFICATIONS

Prepare plans and specifications for grassed waterways that describe the requirements for applying the practice according to this standard. This should include:

- A plan view of the layout of the grassed waterway.
- Typical cross sections of the grassed waterway(s).
- Profile(s) of the grassed waterway(s).
- Disposal requirements for excess soil material.
- Site specific construction specifications that describe in writing the installation of the grassed waterway. Include specification for control of concentrated flow during construction and vegetative establishment.
- Vegetative establishment requirements.

OPERATION AND MAINTENANCE

Provide an operation and maintenance plan to review with the landowner. Include the following items and others as appropriate in the plan:

- Establish a maintenance program to maintain waterway capacity, vegetative cover, and outlet stability. Vegetation damaged by machinery, herbicides, or erosion must be repaired promptly.
- Protect the waterway from concentrated flow by using diversion of runoff or mechanical means of stabilization such as silt fences, mulching, hay bale barriers and etc. to stabilize grade during vegetation establishment.
- Minimize damage to vegetation by excluding livestock whenever possible, especially during wet periods. Permit grazing in the waterway only when a controlled grazing system is being implemented.
- Inspect grassed waterways regularly, especially following heavy rains. Fill, compact, and reseed damaged areas immediately. Remove sediment deposits to maintain capacity of grassed waterway.
- Avoid use of herbicides that would be harmful to the vegetation or pollinating insects in and adjacent to the waterway area.
- Avoid using waterways as turn-rows during tillage and cultivation operations.
- Mow or periodically graze vegetation to maintain capacity and reduce sediment deposition. Mowing may be appropriate to enhance wildlife values, but must be conducted to avoid peak nesting seasons and reduced winter cover.
- Apply supplemental nutrients as needed to maintain the desired species composition and stand density of the waterway.
- Control noxious weeds.
- Do not use waterways as a field road. Avoid crossing with heavy equipment when wet.
- Lift tillage equipment off the waterway when crossing and turn off chemical application equipment.

COVID-19 Management Plan

Following is a draft version of the Country Thunder plan to mitigate risks at the event.

Country Thunder is committed to hosting a safe event. As part of that commitment, the spread of Covid 19 continues to be a consideration and as such, we are committed to considering the following in order to mitigate any risk. This is of course dependent on the state, county and local guidelines in place during the time of the planned event.

In accordance with Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) guidance for Events and Gatherings, we will consider the following measures to enable both Maintaining Healthy Environments and Healthy Behaviors in order to prevent the spread of COVID-19.

1. Maintaining Healthy Environments

- Testing/Vaccination: a COVID-19 negative test verification or vaccination record during the days prior to arriving will be requested.
 - This will entail each individual planning to attend the event to, on their own, seek out and facilitate a COVID test prior to arrival and will encourage people to be vaccinated prior to arrival.
 - The event will communicate with patrons with e-newsletters, messaging on pdf based tickets, social media etc. Media partners will also be encouraged to pass on this messaging.
 - Non-vaccinated people will be encouraged to wear a mask. Masks will be available at the event.
- Event Layout: as this is an outdoor event, the layout will remain the same as in prior years. Socially distanced entrances and vendor lines will be considered dependent upon the current requirements. Maps including traffic flow can be included if required.
- Cleaning: expect additional cleaning at high touchpoint areas such as portolets, handwashing stations, food vendor areas, ticket booths, etc. Country Thunder is working with sanitization companies and washroom facilities to ensure additional cleaning and sanitation. As well, hand sanitizing stations will be placed at all high traffic areas around the site. Patrons will be encouraged to use them throughout the day.

2. Maintaining Healthy Behaviors

- Communications: leading up to the event, social media, media, event newsletters and any other form of communication will include messaging about the following. During the event, signage posted in high traffic areas around the event site, large screen messaging, messaging through the event app and staff messaging will also include this information.
 - Hand Hygiene and Respiratory Etiquette, washing your hands often, especially during key times (food prep, bathroom, handling garbage, after blowing nose, sneezing or coughing). Cover mouth and nose when coughing and sneezing.
 - Self Monitor, self-monitor for illness and stay home if experiencing known symptoms as listed by the CDC (Fever or chills, Cough, Shortness of breath or difficulty breathing, Fatigue, Muscle or body aches, Headache, New loss of taste or smell, Sore throat, Congestion or runny nose, Nausea or vomiting, Diarrhea).
 - Negative Covid Test/Proof of Vaccination, patrons will be reminded that the best way to prevent the spread of Covid 19 is to ensure they have either a recent negative Covid test, or proof of vaccination.
- Staffing
 - All full time Country Thunder staff will be vaccinated. Part time and seasonal staff will receive the same message as event patrons, recommending they should either be vaccinated or have a negative Covid test before arriving for the event.
 - If required, Country Thunder will consider providing gloves and masks for event staff.
