Assisted Living

Assisted Living Options in Kenosha County

Assisted living facilities are for people who need care monitoring services but choose to live in a setting without 24-hour access to nursing services. Wisconsin licenses, certifies, registers, and regulates these types of assisted living facilities:

- Adult Family Home (AFH)
- Community-Based Residential Facility (CBRF)
- Residential Care Apartment Complex (RCAC)

This list will describe the 3 types, and then list the options within Kenosha County. Fees for any of these options is either thru long-term care insurance, one of the state Medicaid programs, or private pay. If you'd like to see if you or a loved one qualifies for a Medicaid program, please contact the Kenosha County ADRC for more information, 262-605-6646, or Email: adrc@kenoshacounty.org There is no guarantee that funds will be available to pick up the cost when the person's resources are depleted.

The Provider Search tool gives you an easy and fast way to find a health or residential care provider in Wisconsin. This includes residential care providers. All providers listed are regulated by Wisconsin Department of Health Services (DHS), <https://www.forwardhealth.wi.gov/WIPortal/subsystem/public/DQAProviderSearch.aspx>

(AFH) Adult Family Homes care for residents beyond room and board but may provide only 7 hours a week of nursing care. Homes have up to 4 residents with private and semi-private rooms available. Each location may have a specific license, call for further details. This list contains locations that have been licensed for at least one year. If you'd like to see the full list of Kenosha County Adult Family homes, read more about licensing, view their compliance history, or obtain a guide to help you choose a location, etc. please access the DHS website: <https://www.dhs.wisconsin.gov/guide/assisted-living.htm>

(CBRF) Community Based Residential Facilities are community living facilities that provides room and board, supervision, and supportive services to persons who are unable to live on their own in the community or who choose to live in these facilities. It is intended that these facilities be as “home-like” as possible and be in or near the individual’s community. The primary goal is to assist individuals in having the highest level of independence they are capable of, and all must meet the same licensing standards.

CBRFs provide some needed services above basic room and board. CBRFs are not required to have professional nurses on duty, 24 hours a day, as in nursing homes, but may wish to provide limited nursing services. CBRFs are required to be staffed 24 hours a day.

There are three sizes of CBRFs are based upon the number of residents: small (8 or less), medium (9-20), and large (21 or more). They may also differ by class, which is determined by the residents’ ability to move about (ambulating), to follow directions (mental capacity), and to act for self-preservation under emergency conditions.

It is important to contact whatever CBRF facility you may be interested in, to better understand their admission criteria, including if they require a specific number of months of ability to pay privately in order to confirm admission.

(RCAC) Residential Care Apartment Complexes are independent apartment units in which provide room and board, up to 28 hours per week of supportive care, personal care, and nursing services, where 5 or more adults live in independent apartments. Each apartment has an individual lockable entrance and exit. It includes a kitchen with a stove, individual bathroom, sleeping and living areas. It provides the resident with up to 28 hours per week of supportive, personal, and nursing services.
